POUF—AND SEVEN THOUSAND GOES JUST LIKE THAT

Eugenio De Folco Says He Has Only One Dollar and Fifty Cents Left in Cash

Divested of $7000 in real money, surfeited with experience and more or less cynical as to the value of promises, Eugenio de Folco will end his impetuous four weeks' career as an impresario of grand opera in Hawaii, when, with A. L. Benson, his secretary, he sails Wednesday for the mainland.

Benson came back from Hilo, where he went to make engagements for the company, to find the company defunct. He canceled the Hilo dates and prepared to sail. Benson says he has been at a heavy personal expense in his efforts to help the members of the company.

Benson and de Folco each emphatically insist that de Folco borrowed $500 to pay his singers, and that from the money realized at the performance under the Footlights Club he repaid this $500, and that the rest went to stage hands and for necessary incidental expenses.

"I have to live on," said Signor de Folco today, "one dollar and fifty cents. I am, as you call it, broke. I come here with more than $7000, all my own, and—pouf—it is gone like that. My wife, on the last boat, went to the coast and from there she will send me money, which she will borrow from friends if I must have it."

"I paid my people nearly all that was owed—every one of them. I settled every bill I could. If there is a little still due, what can I do with one dollar and a half?"

Some Was Never Paid.

De Folco says that of the guarantee made him by Honolulu people before he brought his company here, more than $4000 was never paid at all.

"At the last moment they changed their minds. They signed for tickets, but did not take them. Somebody pays, somebody does not. There is over $4000 still on this paper. On one Saturday I had money to pay passage home for all the company. I arranged for steamer tickets, but could not pay salaries. I thought I would take them all home. Then two of your men came in and said: 'Do not leave. By Wednesday we will sell tickets and bring you $2500.' So I paid the salaries and went ahead. But they did not come with the $2500 Wednesday. They have not come yet."

Raymond C. Brown yesterday said that the Chamber of Commerce had nothing to do with any benefit for the stranded singers, and would not even consider the proposition, which was out of the line of that body. Mr. Brown said he had personally interested himself, but found so little en-

NO ATTEMPT TO ORGANIZE NEW OAHU REGIMENT

General Johnson Says This Is and Has Not Responded as Well as Other Three

Brigadier-General Samuel I. Johnson, will make no attempt to organize another regiment of the National Guard of Hawaii on Oahu until all the troops here and on the other islands are fully equipped, and unless enlistments come in more rapidly it is probable he will not then attempt to form another full regiment.

Oahu has not responded to the call for volunteers as well, in proportion to population, as the other islands, and there is some doubt whether another regiment could be formed here.

The 1st Regiment, N. G. H., stationed on Oahu, is recruited about up to full strength, and there are with it a hospital and signal corps, while the 1st Separate Company, Engineers, under command of Capt. Charles R. Forbes, also has headquarters in Honolulu. But with all these, Oahu will have "nothing on the other islands," each of which will have a full regiment and attached companies as soon as the troops can be mustered in and the officers commissioned and prepared for their work.

Where the Naval Militia will belong after it is fully organized and recognized by the department at Washington is a question which is to be settled, as there seems some doubt whether it will exist separately or will come under control of the adjacent general of the Territory of Hawaii. The Naval Militia now numbers about 50 members, and its full complement, in order to man a ship, will have to be about 125.

PAXSON, LIKE RICHARD, WILLING TO GIVE KINGDOM FOR A HORSE

Who has a real born-to-the-destination black horse? Take your turn, and name the animal and let S. B. Paxson, president of the Rotary Club and head of the auto parade event of the Mid-Pacific Carnival, know just where he can lay his hands on the four legged treasure. By so doing you will greatly oblige Mr. Paxson and help along the Carnival quite a little.

Here's the situation. Everybody knows, of course, that Oahu is going to have an island princess in the parade. She is to be Miss Libby Peck. So far so good. But everyone does not know that a true, born to the purple island princess has to have a coal black horse, or one as near coal black as possible, when she rides abroad, with her paws fluttering and trailing behind her.

Mr. Paxson knows, however, and yesterday he started out bright and early to visit his friends who might have coal black chargers for the use of the island's only princess. He thought he was going to have an easy time. Wrong.

Can Use Neither of Them.

All the coal black horses he found two—had something the matter with them. One was going to prance in the parade under a soldier. The other had in some unaccountable fashion picked up a nail in his hoof and was out of the procession for some time to come.

In the meantime the four outriders, mailhills all they are, are getting ready to do their share in the procession. They are the Misses Marion and Margery Dunn, who are at the Moana, and Miss Krusi and Miss Tietgen, who are staying at the Young hotel. They are to wear modern dresses.

Capt. Robert Waips Parker is going to be marshal of the island princess section of the big parade.

HOKE SMITH HAS NEW SCHEME FOR ARMY INCREASE

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 18.—Senator Hoke Smith of Georgia yesterday proposed an entirely new plan for an increased army. His bill, which he introduced in the senate, called for an army of 250,000 active soldiers.

He would enlist these for two years, and they would serve as reservists for four years.

The measure provides that the training of the men as soldiers would include at least 96 hours monthly of scholastic or vocational teaching. Postmasters are to act as recruiting officers and the men would report to them once a year.

The bill was referred to the committee on military affairs.

SWEDEN VOICES PROTEST AGAINST BRITISH HOLDUP

In Note Asks U. S. to Help Protect Neutral Mails and Cargoes on Seas

(Associated Press by Federal Wireless)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 18.—In a formal note to the United States which reached here yesterday afternoon, the government of Sweden asks America to join her in upholding the international laws relative to the proper protection of neutral commerce during war times.

The note suggests that other neutrals would be brought to co-operate with the United States and Sweden in a vigorous policy of protection if adopted. The note also proposes definite action against Great Britain because of the seizure of mails and the detention of contraband cargoes.

Secretary Lansing told Minister Ekengren, the Swedish representative here, that this government would not be able to take any action in regard to the Swedish note until after the definite settlement of the Lusitania matter.

IN WAR ARENA

TEUTON METHODS HINDER RELIEF OF POLES, SAYS GREY

LONDON, Eng., Feb. 17.—Sir Edward Grey, foreign secretary, speaking in the house of commons yesterday, contradicted the report that the British government had refused to allow the importation of food into Poland, having as yet not replied to the request that had been made in the name of those neutrals who are anxious to assist the starving Poles. The foreign secretary added that the Entente Powers would take up the request for consideration just as soon as the various "methods of spoliation being carried out by the Central Powers" are brought to an end.

AGED SERB KING GRATEFUL FOR U. S. SYMPATHY

ADEPSOS ISLAND, Embos, Feb. 18.—The war between the Central Powers and the Allies is the last effort of feudalism to break down the constantly encroaching advances of freedom.

Such was the statement of old King Peter V. of the infirm and almost blind monarch of ruined Serbia, to a correspondent for the Associated Press here yesterday. For one thing that the war has brought him he is thankful, added the fallen ruler. That one thing is the better understanding of the American spirit. To the people of the United States he sends his warmest thanks for their help and sympathy for his stricken country in its fight against disease and death.

(Associated Press by Federal Wireless)

McKean Grant told the house naval affairs committee yesterday afternoon. "If we wish to have the second largest navy in the world," he said, "we must add to the present program very materially."

Fort Shafter Notes

(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence)

FORT SHAFTER, Feb. 18.—According to the latest mainland papers received, Capt. Paul B. Malone, 2nd Infantry, will be relieved from duty in Hawaii on May 21st and will return to the states for duty, as he will then have completed his tour of foreign service. As yet Capt. Malone does not know to which regiment he will be assigned on his return, but it is quite likely that he will go to the 16th Infantry now on the border, as Capt. Elliot Casare, 16th Infantry, has been assigned to the 2nd Infantry at Shafter to take Capt. Malone's place, effective May 22. Capt. Malone is one of the best known infantry officers, and it is with many regrets that his host of friends will see him go. The captain within a short time will be promoted to the grade of major, and has completed his examinations.

The bimonthly hop which will be given by the Mansfield Camp of the Spanish War Veterans has been announced for Friday in their new big hall at the fort. These dances are growing in popularity and are filling a long-felt want, as heretofore there has been no place where the married enlisted men of the garrison and their families could meet socially and become better acquainted. Each dance is bringing more and more civilians from near the post and Honolulu, and practically all of the married enlisted men at Shafter. Arrangements have been made for buses to meet all cars at King and Kamehameha streets between 8 and 9 o'clock and will take all back to meet cars at 11 o'clock. The aerodrome orchestra will furnish the music for the evening, and a delicious supper will be served.

Upon the recommendation of the commanding officer, Company H, 2nd Infantry, the following promotion and appointment have been made in that organization: Cpl. Joseph H. Gates, to be sergeant, vice Barker reduced, and Lance Cpl. Joseph Buchner to be corporal vice Gates, promoted.

The Commercial Club of Honolulu has very generously extended the privileges of the club to the officers of Fort Shafter during Carnival week, and many will take advantage of the kind invitation.

Mrs. Orin Rigley, wife of 1st Sgt. Rigley, Company L, 2nd Infantry, is a patient in the Department hospital where she underwent an operation a few days ago and is now convalescing.

The aerodrome management gave their second smoker on Thursday evening. It was a great success.

STRINGENT RULE TO STOP SPREAD OF HOG CHOLERA

Board of Agriculture Will Submit Proposed Regulations to Association Here

Regulations for the prevention of hog cholera proposed by the territorial veterinarian will be submitted to the Hog Raisers' Association for discussion before adoption by the commissioners of agriculture and forestry. This was determined at a meeting of the board held yesterday morning. The regulations were read and a resolution was passed that a copy be sent to the Hog Raisers' Association with a request that they be ready to present their views on them at a special meeting to be held shortly.

The proposed regulations make it the duty of hog owners, or keepers, to report to the territorial veterinarian the appearance of symptoms of any transmissible disease, to segregate suspected animals, to keep the carcasses of dead animals for diagnosis, to bury or burn all carcasses after examination, to keep poultry, dogs, cats and other scavengers from the carcasses, to keep visitors from the infected premises, to disinfect his body and clothing after leaving the infected premises, to see that no hogs, litter, or farm utensils leave the premises, to disinfect the hoofs of driving or riding animals and wheels of vehicles and to keep the quarantine which will be declared by the veterinarian when he diagnoses the disease as transmissible. Provisions in the regulations give the veterinarian absolute authority over the premises after quarantine is declared.

COUPON PLAN TO AID CHAMBER OF COMMERCE IN REACHING SOLDIERS

Organization Asks Men of Schofield and Castner What Their Wishes are Regarding Club house Proposals

To the men of the Army at Schofield Barracks and Castner:

For some long time, as you well know, the residents of Honolulu have considered "doing something" for the men of the army. That proper something is, as yet, unknown and probably cannot be known until the men themselves lead their assistance towards finding it.

During the past few months two defined views have been expressed, one advocating the erection of a building in Honolulu where the men of the army, when visiting the city, could drop in and enjoy the comfort of an easy chair, perhaps the newspaper files or magazines; a sort of a club devoted to social life and its surroundings; the other advocating the erection of a hall or building in Schofield Barracks and Castner boundaries, where the men, while off duty and unwilling to come to Honolulu, could play basket-ball, enjoy roller skating, athletic sports and probably lectures.

This chamber of commerce, in attempting to arrive at some definite position, finds itself between these two plans, each of which has many strong champions and many sound arguments.

Without in any way blinding the Chamber of Commerce of Honolulu, but simply for the purpose of learning the feeling of the men of the army, so that the chamber may, with some degree of certainty, point to a collective opinion, will the men stationed at Schofield Barracks and at Castner kindly fill in the coupon hereto attached and mail it so as to reach the undersigned not later than 4:30 p. m., on Monday, March 6, 1916?

RAYMOND C. BROWN, Secretary Chamber of Commerce of Honolulu.

Note—Confine your views to the question of doing something along the lines indicated, viz., something in Honolulu or something within the borders of the two posts mentioned.
